In 'useful', the first syllable produces a consonant sound as in 'you', so 'a'. Before 'interstate', we have 'our', a determiner that talks about it; and there should be no blank between them; so no article there.
27 Option (B) is the correct answer. The given sentence is a third conditional with its pattern : 'If + past perfect (had run), would + have + past participle (been)', with negation added as necessary, and the placement of the 'if clause' and the 'main clause' interchanged.
29 Option (B) is the correct answer. The sentence with (corrections) : I rote (wrote) the forward (foreword) fore (for) her book that recived (received) praise.
31 Option (C) is the odd one. In addition to being a noun like others, 'dog' can be a verb too.
33 Option (C) is the correct answer. Change of voice is not possible because the sentence uses 'future continuous tense'.
34 Option (D) is the correct answer. There is no change of tense in the reported speech without quotes because the reporting verb uses simple future tense (will say).
35 Option (C) is the correct answer. There is no change of tense in the reported speech without quotes because the reporting verb (says) is in present tense.
